Tribal Spotlight

The Quapaw Tribe once inhabited a vast portion of Arkansas. Once they started their journey towards northeastern Oklahoma, Tribal members traveled on foot through the timber covered hills and forests of Arkansas. These forests were filled with a variety of trees including the strong, firm red oak.

Red oaks were an important part of Quapaw history. These trees were used to make our homes as the wood was very strong and sturdy. Just like the red oak, we as a Quapaw people view ourselves to be strong, sustaining the longevity of the tribe. In honor of the trees, the name Red Oak was given to the fine dining establishment here at Downstream.

OCTOBER 2018 SPECIAL

Boo-TIFUL

INSTANT RADIANCE FACIAL

After a hydrating cleanse with a green tea and coconut cream cleanser, an exfoliating mud mask draws out toxins, bacteria and dead skin, so you're left with nothing but clean, clear, and soft skin. Next, a vitamin-packed, cactus-infused gel wrap tightens skin and increases circulation as an application of Crow Catcher Eye Transformation Serum minimizes wrinkles. Add a dose of Spotted Leaving Serum to help even skin tone and Three Milk Ageless Moisturizer to keep fighting fine lines. You're left with a glowing, flawless face that looks so good, trick or treaters may think you're wearing a mask!

Receive 20% off all Salon services during the month of October.
